DUAL ANTIPLATELET THERAPY IN ACUTE CORONARY SYNDROME FOLLOWING PERCUTANEOUS INTERVENTIONS

Dr. Alyssa Osmonson

Recorded Webinar

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

Use of dual antiplatelet therapy and its duration in acute coronary syndrome (ACS) after percutaneous coronary intervention (PCI) is rapidly evolving. This presentation will focus on reviewing current evidence and recommendations on the use of DAPT in ACS post-PCI, with a focus on duration. The cost of this program is $25.

Following registration, participants will have access to course instructions, updates, presentations, recorded webinar, program evaluation, CE certificates and credits, etc. This program is approved for 1.0 ACPE Contact Hours, .1 CEUs. Once credit is awarded, transcripts will be available online within 24 hours on the learner's CPE Monitor profile at <http://nabp.pharmacy/>. This program is also approved by the ABN. The initial release date for this program is July 5, 2023, and the intended expiration date is July 5, 2026.

The Office of Alumni and Professional Affairs strongly encourages each participant to check their profile online within 60 days of attendance to ensure credit has been awarded properly. ACPE will not accept CE submissions after 60 days from the live seminar date.

This program is not sponsored by an external organization.

TARGET AUDIENCE

This knowledge-based program is intended for Pharmacists (ACPE) and nurses (ABN).

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

1. Identify characteristics, benefits, and risks of dual antiplatelet therapy (DAPT).
2. Review current recommendations for use of DAPT in acute coronary syndrome (ACS) following percutaneous coronary intervention (PCI).
3. Define optimal duration of DAPT for ACS based on current evidence.
4. Identify potential candidates for shortened duration of DAPT after PCI.

ACTIVITY COMPLETION REQUIREMENTS

To complete the steps for CE credit, each attendee will be required to access and review program materials located within the online course, watch the recorded webinar, take the quiz, complete the program evaluation within the online course, and claim credit within the course. Please contact hcopce@auburn.edu if you have any questions or needs related to this online CE program.
